The Dimmer VIEW

By MAX GOODWIN

Whenever I feel the need for gadding some of my readers into attention I use a little phrase in which the words "Johnny" and "Read" appear, these are usually in the form of a question and separated by the word "can't."

This apparently maddens some of those who have to do with schools and education, even though they are otherwise calm and reasonable people. I insist, some argue notwithstanding, that the schools and education are much too important economically as well as culturally to be removed from the realm of honest and just criticism.

Nothing so wide spread in shape and size employing so many people and spending so many dollars can be perfect. Nor is perfection demanded. Thus when I observe somewhat casually from time to time, that our young people do not seem to be able to spell or read as well as we did in our generation, you'd think that I had at the same time accused every school person of treason and murder instead of being sincerely honest in what I believe. Truth of the matter is, youngsters do not spell so well as their forebearers. Nor do they read so well either and I don't think that it is altogether the fault of our schools although educators and school administrators never wait for a critic to unfold his whole story before they start vigorously defending the current system.

Schools, particularly the ones in this area have not deserted phonics. Nor have they embraced progressive reading in the altogether. I hardly think either of these conditions are responsible for what I consider the low reading-spelling quotient of our school children today.

First, humanities plays, as it always has, an important role in the quantity of our youngsters' abilities. A couple of generations ago things were not so electronic, mechanical, and artificial, and as Clarence Allen, one of Lemon Grove's more respected educators (Vista La Mesa principal) points out, "We find that children can read, spell and understand better where the home is not culturally impoverished." That means simply that if families sit and talk to their children instead of watching television, if they indulge in family participation recreation instead of racing down freeways in a superpowered auto, if they sprinkle books about the home to encourage youngsters to read, and read some themselves, they accept partly the responsibility more important for the offspring, they will have been doing some of the things where many modern parents are today failing.

I recall that in my youth my papa read to all the children from "Uncle Remus" and that encouraged us to want to learn words.

Back in our day we also had such things as spelling bees which helped fill the recreation void and that has since been replaced by radio listening, beer drinking and television viewing. Family meals, it seems, have also changed. Back yonder food was more plentiful and cheaper, and more had more time for the kitchen. Bridgegames, club meetings, auto trips to shopping centers and other places did not call her from home nearly so often as they do now. Dining, too, was more leisurely and we children learned wonderful things by listening to our elders show their knowledge. Today we have concentrated super-vitaminized cereals and irradiated bread and eating time reduced to minutes and practically no conversation at all. No wonder the art of communicating by speech, or written word seems to be on the decline.

It is my belief that Johnny's reading and spelling does leave much to be desired but that hardly makes it necessary for teachers and school administrators to have a compulsion whenever one of our oldtimers, out of respect for the dear dead days of pre-enlightenment say wistfully, "I was reading Plato when I was in the third grade. Kid's ain't that smart nowadays."

All this goes to prove that not only did we get a good quality of education in those days but we were also conditioned for energizing our imagination for the later years... the period where we would need it most.

BUSINESS WOMAN SUFFERS BROKEN FOOT IN COLLISION
Patricia Hutchinson, 7543 Davidson Street, operator of Patricia's Sportswear, 7887 Broadway, suffered a broken foot when the brand new power-braked Oldsmobile she was driving Saturday night collided with another car which turned suddenly into a side street.

Mrs. Hutchinson was cited for following too close.

11th Fairs of Fair and Miss Con-Tour Queen Pageant Begins In March

One of San Diego County's most highly contested events—the 11th annual Fair of the Fair and Miss Con-Tour queen pageant preliminaries—will begin next month.

Co-sponsors will be the Southern California Exposition & County Fair at Del Mar and the San Diego Convention & Tourist Bureau. Barney Newlee, the exposition's director of special events, will be in charge of the project.

Community and district preliminaries will be sponsored by a local organization from each area, Newlee said. Special feature of every preliminary contest will be filming of these events for showing on Channel 10. These film clips will be presented as Channel 10's salute to the communities of San Diego County.

Candidates will be selected during the months of March, April and May. Final competition in which all preliminary winners will vie, will be on Sunday afternoon, June 3, at the exposition grounds.

The Fairest of the Fair and Miss Con-Tour will reign over the exposition, June 29 through July 8. In August, she is the county's representative in the California State Fair's Maid of California queen pageant. As Miss Con-Tour, she is the official hostess of the Convention & Tourist Bureau until June, 1957.

Rules for participating are simple. Any girl, between the ages of 17 through 22, is eligible to compete. She must be a resident of the community or district where the preliminary contest is held. Judging will be on a point basis for beauty, personality, charm and poise. Dress at preliminary contests and finals will be formal.

Poultry Protection To Be Discussed At Meeting

Inadequate equipment and water supply was the main cause of poultry losses during the heat wave of 1955 according to Robert H. Adolph, San Diego county farm advisor. By individual planning and installation of labor saving equipment and an adequate supply of water, a repeat of the 1955 heat loss should not become a threat to any poultryman.

A meeting for Southern California poultrymen is to be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, Thursday, February 9, at the Lincoln School auditorium in Escondido. Latest information on methods and equipment for protecting and cooling birds under extremely high temperature conditions will be presented. Dr. Wilbur Wilson, University of California research specialist in this field, will be the principal speaker, according to Adolph.

Water District Claims Bond Issue Popularity is Growing

Support for a yes vote on the irrigation district bond election on February 21 is gaining throughout all divisions of the district, according to Joe Parks of La Mesa, who is chairman of a citizens district-wide committee to support the campaign for a yes vote on the issue.

Parks said that the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce board of directors, giving a unanimous vote to endorse the bond issue, has taken its stand along with a growing list of civic and community organizations who recognize the vital necessity of building an additional supply line to bring water to the people of the district.

The Citizens Advisory Committee of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District and the La Mesa-Spring Valley Committee for Better Schools have both joined in the endorsement of the bond issue for $5,230,000. Chambers of commerce, junior chambers of commerce and other organizations throughout the district have similarly expressed their desire to help bring out a solid, affirmative vote for water on February 21, Parks said.

He said members of his committee had spoken to large numbers of people in many organizations in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area, and had received an enthusiastic response to the information presented.

"People quickly understand when the entire picture is shown to them that we must have another pipeline to bring more water simply because we have more people using more water than can be brought in through the one pipeline we have," Parks said.

Parks said that the simplest way to pay for the pipeline and additional storage pumping and chlorination facilities is by means of a bond issue to be repaid over a 40 year period.

"Otherwise it would be necessary to levy sufficiently high water and tax rates to raise the $5 million out of current revenues over the next few years. This would hurt, and is not a reasonable way to have to finance necessary water works," Parks pointed out.

In addition to construction of another main transmission line, the bond issue would also provide for building a main transmission line into Lemon Grove and for construction of a four million gallon steel storage tank in Lemon Grove.

This would give Lemon Grove a firm assurance of uninterrupted supply, would reduce the risk of interruption of water supply of some failure in the overstrained existing facilities, and would greatly improve the fire protection of Lemon Grove, with the existence of the four million gallon storage tank.

"Without these storage facilities and the additional supply line, we'll be up against severe, stringent water rationing this year or next," Parks said. "If we want to keep our community the kind of home place that it is, a growing, lively community and a fine place in which to live, we must approve this bond issue in order to assure a sufficiently ample water supply," Parks pointed out.

'APPRECIATION' NIGHT SET FOR SATURDAY

COACH BUD WILKINSON

SAN DIEGO (Spcl.)—City and county civic leaders will join with University of Oklahoma football coach Charles (Bud) Wilkinson to pay tribute to San Diego county's high school coaches and administrators Saturday at the second annual Appreciation Night banquet in El Cortez Hotel, according to an announcement by Griff Hayes, chairman of the speakers' committee.

The Appreciation Night banquet is co-sponsored by St. Augustine High School and the Notre Dame Club of San Diego.

San Diego Mayor Charles Dale will be at the speakers' table, Hayes said, along with David Bird, chairman, board of supervisors; George Sears, president, San Diego Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Ralph Dailard, superintendent of city schools; Dr. Cecil Hardesty, superintendent of county schools; Darrell Smith, director of physical education for city schools; and Ralph Kiner, general manager of the San Diego Padres baseball team.

Trial P. O. Service To Become Permanent

The new combination mail service, inaugurated in November, will become a permanent service, according to F. R. Faucher, Lemon Grove Postmaster.

He said that the service had been on an experimental basis for the past 60 days.

The combination mail service permits the user to indicate the presence of a letter or message inside of second, third or fourth class mail; and pay the appropriate fee for the first class mail plus the regular rate on the other class (such as newspaper, magazine or parcel post).

This is another improvement to be added to the long list of 70 changes which have been made in the last two years by the post office department.

SATURDAY DINNER DANCE LOCATION CHANGED

The Saturday night dinner dance of the combined clubs of the Lemon Grove Business Women's League, the Kiwanis and the Lions Club has been transferred to the Cuyamaca Club in downtown San Diego it was announced Wednesday by Bud Anderson, chairman of the project.

It was originally scheduled for Sweetwater Dining Room but it became apparent that the club couldn't accommodate combined membership of the three clubs.

Dinner, and dancing all evening to a five-piece orchestra will cost members and their friends three dollars a person.

Reservations should be made through Dorothy Armstrong at HO 9-2492.

Sailor With 25 Years in Navy Will Cruise on Land for Year

William A. Morris Jr., 44, who enlisted in the Navy as apprentice seaman in 1931 and climbed the ladder to lieutenant in World War II, released in 1954 after 23½ years of service but still subject to call—"retained" is the way Bill puts it—will start on a year's land cruise next week, with his wife Lillian to read the road maps and day. Stores were hurriedly re-shipped and his ship left the harbor at 25 knots, where the usual speed was eight knots (to prevent waves doing damage.) His ship stayed out looking for Japs for three days. The next start was for the eastern seas, and Jap hunting and other orders kept things hopping for three years, with a visit to Australia thrown in for good measure.

In 1945 our hero was ordered to Washington D. C. for two years' duty. Bill was a chief yeoman by this time, and had plenty of clerical work.

During his time ashore Lillian joined him, and for part of that time they occupied a Quonset hut, provided by the Navy and equipped for comfortable house-keeping.

It had been Bill's plan to work in the printshop of the ship, but as destroyers were not so equipped, he had to make a typewriter do. His typing was learned the hard way, and is still in evidence. He got so he could make 11 copies of a document, with the last copy legible. At that time 11 copies of everything were made.

Bill came to California first in 1931, and in May, 1949, came to Spring Valley, where his father had built a home, the first on Switzer Road, which is a dead end street, now lined on both sides with nice homes.

The Morris home has been remodeled, Bill and Lillian doing most of the work. The residents of the street all have children or are related, and the street is a playground after school hours, safe from speeding autos.

In 1954 Bill was released and took things easy until he got a job as pressman and printer with The REVIEW. He has been in charge of the REVIEW shop for the past year. Lillian is a very capable girl, and has done much of the casting with the metal pot, and helping with the mail, during that time, without getting a serious burn.

We of the REVIEW force will miss Bill and Lillian, and we all join in wishing them a happy year ahead.

Two Navy men, both with printing experience, have joined the mechanical force in the shop.

'Carole' Makes a Thousand Bucks For BWL

A final accounting on the income from the sale of tickets on Carole, the Christmas doll, was given by Mrs. James Oyler, treasurer of the Lemon Grove Business Women's Club at a dinner meeting last week.

Carole, the little money maker, was responsible for an income of $1,266.91. Her expenses, during her birth and exploitation, were 175.30, which gave the women a profit of $1,091.61.

At the same time a balance of $1,449.71 was announced. $780 is expected to be contributed by business firms and from BWL members and the working fund will be $2,229.71. The club estimated they would spend all but $125.77 of that amount on the upkeep of the plaza.

President Mrs. Calvin K. Nicholson announced that Mrs. Harry Wilson will assume the duties of publicity chairman for the remainder of the club year.

Items currently needed by the Red Cross Navy Hospital are hosiery boxes, ice picks, one ice cream scoop, two pairs of musician drum sticks 16 inches long, thank you note paper, and gift wrapping. Anyone having any of these items may call Mrs. Al Rice at JU 2-6788. Bruce Harms, assistant manager of the First National Bank, provided over 500 1956 pocket calendars which were very much needed.

Mrs. Ivan Lauritzen, principal of Golden Avenue School, reported on current evacuation plans presently formulating for the school children under the civil defense program.

Mrs. John Farle will be hostess at the board meeting on February 22.

Prescription to Be Changed Says Dr. Brumbaugh

It was grandchild number ten for grandmother and grandfather Dr. Brumbaugh Sr., when Dr. and Mrs. Si. Brumbaugh Jr., 7337 Central Avenue, became parents for the third time on January 26.

Mrs. Brumbaugh (Mary Lou) said the baby was three weeks premature which accounted for weighing "only" 8 pounds, 11 ounces. Barbara Ann, 3½, weighed 9 pounds, 5 ounces and Carol Ann weighed 10 pounds, 3 ounces. The new one is named Jo Ann and was born at Grossmont.

Matter of fact Dr. Si was delivering a baby for another fortunate mother when Mary Lou decided she needed to make the trip to the hospital. (I guess there is a law or something that makes it mandatory for a father to drop whatever he is doing, come home, put his wife's nightgown in a valise and then drive to the hospital for the birth of all children—Ed.) So he rushed home and got the mother to Grossmont.

Dr. Si viewed the situation with equanimity and announced, after Jo Ann was named, that he intended to even out the family with a series of three boys.

Grandmother and Grandfather Brumbaugh Sr., are philosophical about the newest female arrival. "We've got some of the finest granddaughters in the world," they said. One is in Switzerland as a third year Smith student, another is at Greenbriar College.

In all, the whole Brumbaugh message is well and happy and congratulatory messages are pouring in.

Juniors Sponsoring Trip to Bob Crosby's TV Show

Would you like to attend Bob Crosby's television show? The Lemon Grove Juniors are sponsoring a tour by chartered bus to Los Angeles March 6. A maximum of 30 people may take this tour. Reservations must be made with Mrs. Eugene Johnson, HO 6-5893 by February 14, with a deposit of $2.50. The charge for the bus tour is $5.00. Meals will be extra. The bus will leave the Lemon Grove plaza at 5:45 a.m., arriving in Los Angeles in time for breakfast at Farmer's Market. Several television shows are on the agenda, including Bob Crosby, Queen for a Day and others.

You will have dinner at Nick's and will return to Lemon Grove at approximately 10 p.m.

These tours are not limited to club members, friends and neighbors will be welcomed—make your reservations with Mrs. Johnson by February 14.

28 MURDERS IN 6 MONTHS
Baltimore, Md.—Thirty-eight persons were murdered in the city of Baltimore in the first six months of 1955. Police have made arrests in all but three of the cases. Thirty-three of the slaying victims were Negroes.

GROVE BEAUTY TO COMPETE IN ORANGE SHOW

Carol Wilson of 7872 Mt. Vernon St., has been selected to represent Lemon Grove in competition for the California Orange Queen at the 41st National Orange Show. She will compete against girls from all over the State of California.

The competition starts this week and closes February 10. Last August Carol reigned as queen of La Mesa's Festival de las Flores and was runner-up to Miss Harbor Days.

Carol is a senior at Helix High School where she is solo majorette with the Helix green and silver band and commissioner of cultural affairs.

Complimentary tickets are available for the finals to be held at the Ralph E. Swing Auditorium in San Bernardino. They can be obtained through Bud Anderson at his Union Service Station, 7593 Broadway.

Supervisors Study Broadway Improvement Plan

Broadway improvements which will increase its width to 150 feet, provide sidewalks and curbs, establish grades and perhaps ornamental lighting and additional parking areas between Massachusetts and Kempf will be studied by county officials, Supervisor Bird said this week.

A petition signed by approximately 75 property holders along Broadway asks the supervisors to conduct a survey establishing approximate costs for the improvements.

Harry Griffen, Lemon Grove property owner, is chairman of the committee. A similar plan was offered by Griffen via the Lemon Grove Men's Club more than a year ago but no action was taken at that time.

Two Grove Men Sentenced for Assault

Two Grove young men were sentenced Tuesday by Superior Judge Hewicker for statutory rape October 22 of a 14-year-old girl.

John Keith Riley, 25, of 7024 Mt. Vernon St., received a sentence of six months in jail and five years probation, also a fine of $200.

Gunnard Elwin Ostberg, 21, of 7476 Roosevelt St., got 90 days in jail and probation for three years.

The offense was committed near La Presa Airport after a football game.

Lady Pioneer Realtor has Sold, then Resold,
 Much Area Property

Marie West Parrish

Thirty five years ago a beautiful lady came to San Diego County and built a beautiful home on Bancroft Point, in La Mesa.

The lady, Marie West, casting around for something to do to bring an income, decided that selling real estate offered the best chance. She had been a dress designer in Dallas, for the biggest store in Texas, but opportunities in that line were few in this section. She started getting listings, and because no maps of the area existed, she made many of the first ones used in this area.

With her eye open for opportunities on sizeable sales, she got sales contracts, platted subdivisions, made sales and brought people with money to invest in large properties.

Except for a Miss Westfall, who dealt mostly in smaller properties, Marie West was the pioneer lady realtor in this section. She worked with various men who controlled large pieces of land, among them Col. Ed Fletcher, who was selling lots on Grossmont and Mt. Helix.

Villa Caro Heights, at the foot of the hill below the present Grossmont High School and now including Ernie's Rancho, was among the first of the subdivisions sold by Marie West.

Demands a View

Because a view was the chief requisite for her approval, and she had purchased ten acres of Bancroft Point and built a home on the highest point, overlooking Spring Valley and Lemon Grove. Until the road to her property was surfaced, she often, in rainy weather, walked the two miles from Spring Valley Post Office to her home with a gunny sack of groceries on her back. She smiles when she tells this, but it wasn't funny in those days. Her car just couldn't make the hill in the mud.

Other subdivisions platted and sold by this lady realtor were Spring Valley Highlands, Phoenix Heights, Skyline Terrace, Sweetwater Highlands, Porter Hills No. 1, two in Lemon Grove and others. "I have maps of all the subdivisions I've sold, and some day I'll get them together in one map and hang it on the wall," Mrs. West said.

All the properties she was interested in listing and selling were blessed with a view. "I needed a view to look down on to feel right," she explains.

After 25 years in real estate in La Mesa, Marie West Parrish and her husband, (she having married Mr. Parrish some time before, though keeping Marie West for business use) traveled for three years. They went back to Texas twice a year for three years, searching for a climate as good as Lemon Grove's, but finally gave up and came back here to stay. They have now been living in Lemon Grove for five years, but have had no desire to own a home as large as the one on Mt. Helix which they had built before they got the travel urge and which "Cost $500 a month to pay the help to keep such a home in shape."

Despite spending 35 years in California, Marie West Parrish retains a slight Texas accent. She is a handsome woman, and her skin without a wrinkle, is envied by many girls of 20.

Besides the Lemon Grove office at 7908 Broadway, Mrs. Parrish has a branch office in El Cajon and another at Pauma, which is about five miles north of Rincon Springs, north of Escondido.

The Pauma office is in charge of Mrs. Larson, whose husband owns a general store there. Mrs. Larson worked for Mrs. Parrish before World War II, enlisted in the WACS after her twin brother was killed, and discovered that she could make more money selling real estate than she could peddling groceries, so she hired a clerk to work in the store and she does well "selling earth." She made two good sales last month.

El Cajon Branch Opens

The El Cajon branch was established recently, and will specialize in ranch property and large pieces of land with a view. Mrs. Parrish's wide acquaintance with ranch owners on the rim of the valley is proving profitable to all concerned.

"No matter how far out you go, nor how much you pay, you can't lose on property in this area. So many people come to Lemon Grove and buy homes, expecting to stay for keeps, but something happens, they have to move, and that leaves another house to sell. Of course, that is what makes the real estate business." So spoke this lady realtor. "I like to sell ranches. At one time, before labor costs became what they are, I could figure the cost per acre of an orange or avocado orchard, including the irrigation system and all necessary improvements. I made a study of soils and what they would produce profitably. Heavy soil is not adapted for avocados, but citrus does best on it," she said.

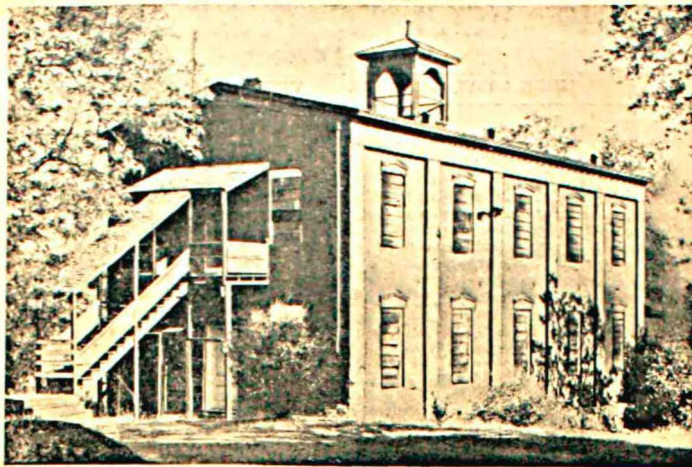

By fairness and interest of her clients at heart, Marie West Parrish has built up a reputation which attracts clientele not satisfied with the mediocre.

In her Lemon Grove office, Mrs. Parrish sits at a desk made of solid rosewood, four by eight feet in size. This desk is more than 300 years old, was made from a piano by an artist. The top is beautifully grained, naturally, drawers have been fitted in it.

Everything about Marie West Parrish, as you can see, is above the ordinary.

Grove Students to Contribute to Historic School Restoration

The historic Columbia Grammar School in the gold rush town of Columbia will be restored by donations of California school children. Pupils in the Lemon Grove School District are participating in the project sponsored by the California Teachers Association.

Pupils of the Lemon Grove School District will be given an opportunity to join in a statewide project to restore the old gold rush school house in Columbia Historic State Park. This was assured today when the Lemon Grove District board of trustees approved the acceptance of small donations of school children for the project which already has the blessing of the California State Legislature, the State Park Commission, the California Congress of Parents and Teachers and the San Diego County Board of Education. The 95-year-old red brick Columbia school house will be restored exactly as it existed in the days of the forty-niners as a result of the project sponsored by the California Teachers Association and conducted locally by the Lemon Grove District Teachers Association.

In 1945, the California State Legislature established Columbia as a historic state park with the intent that all buildings in the hundred year old mining town be restored. Columbia is the best preserved of all mining camps in the Mother Lode region. The booming gold rush town yielded $87,000,000 in gold, and at its peak of prosperity contained a population of over 15,000, the second largest town in California.

The Wells Fargo and Co. express office has been restored with state funds. The Masonic Order financed the restoration of the original Masonic Hall, and the College of the Pacific maintains the old Fallon Hotel and Theater where summer theatricals are conducted. It is expected that the restoration of the Columbia School will be completed by 1960 for the celebration of its centennial.

Collections will be made in Lemon Grove schools during the week of February 13 to February

S. D. Ahead in Roller Fray

San Diego Roller Derby Clippers hold a 2 to 1 lead over Chicago Westerners as a result of a three day set-to last weekend at Mission Beach arena at Belmont Park.

The Clips won Friday and Saturday by a 33-31 and a 33-30 score. Chicago came back Sunday and won by a 35-32 score.

Officials said there is plenty of parking at the new site of roller derbies and that fog passes are now a thing of the past.

Chicago will play again Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

What is Your B. S. (Bathing Suit) Quotient?

Do you need a new figure for your new Easter clothes? For a bathing suit? Now is the time to start working on it. Join the figure control and physical education class sponsored by the Adult Education department of Grossmont High School. The class is held each Tuesday from 9:30 to 11:30 at the Woman's Club, 2810 Main Street (entrance on Olive Street also) in Lemon Grove. Mrs. Wolf is the teacher and the class may be entered at any time.

FEDERATION PRESIDENT IS GUEST OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Newcomer from Niagara Falls Likes Lemon Grove's Sunshine

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burns and two children, a girl, 13 and a boy 7, who came here six months ago from Niagara Falls, New York, are strongly in favor of Lemon Grove's climate and sunshine.

They drove 3400 miles in coming here last August, in their endeavor to find a cool road. They wanted to avoid the southern route, so they went from Texas to Salt Lake, then across Nevada to San Francisco, then down the coast.

It was 103 in Niagara Falls when they left, with a higher temperature part of the way. Mr. Burns says the trailer courts have air conditioning, otherwise they couldn't have stood the heat, and they were able to sleep nights.

Niagara Falls, according to Burns, is the power center and the chemical center of the world. Hundreds of factories employ thousands of men, and there is plenty of work for all. In fact, the jobs hunt the man, and the pay scale is higher than out here, with living costs lower. Also, taxes are lower.

Mr. Burns was employed by one firm for 25 years. He is an electrician, carries a union card. Electricians there get $3.75 per hour, with double time for Saturday and Sunday work.

Mr. Burns was opening and marking stock for his new hardware store at 8300 Imperial Avenue, three doors north of Mason's Feed Store in a brand new building when interviewed by a REVIEW reporter.

We gathered that the Niagara Frontier, which includes Buffalo and other cities nearby, has a disagreeable winter climate. The winter of 1955 had 25 straight days of snow, with plenty of cold wind blowing off of Lake Erie.

Mr. Burns will carry a full line of hardware and paints. He invites a visit from his neighbors and hopes New Yorkers will come in and chat.—D. H.

Grove Girl, Hubby Return Home

Helen Fetterman, daughter of Ken Rister, insurance specialist, with her husband Ray, have returned to this area. Not yet decided where they will reside, they incline toward Lemon Grove.

Ray Fetterman is an electronics engineer, but expects to be associated with Ken Rister in the insurance business.

Helen will be remembered as having been employed at Carr's Hardware store before her marriage some months ago. She is a charming girl and we hope that she and Ray will settle in the Grove.—D. H.

We're living in an unprecedented era of prosperity. Never before have people acquired nearly so many unpaid-for things.

GIFT BOX TO BE SOLD

The Gift Box, 3448 Main Street, will be sold as a going business. It was announced this week by Abe Goldberg, whose wife died in the Santa Fe train wreck last month.

Goldberg said that he would discuss the sale with any interested party by phone at HO 9-9661 or JU 2-1137.

WOMEN GIVE 13 THOUSAND HOURS TO HOSPITAL

A highlight of Grossmont Hospital Women's Auxiliary's first general meeting of the year will be the presentation of the year's awards for volunteer services by members during 1955. Seventy-three members will be cited—totaling a total of 13,455 hours. The meeting at which the presentations will be made, will take place on Friday, February 10, 10 a.m., in Friendship Hall, Main Street, Lemon Grove. Mrs. Jens Hutchens will preside. Mrs. Benjamin Pelak, who is serving her second year as awards chairman, will make the awards.

FINDS URANIUM

Akron, Ohio — Mrs. Dorothy Madigan, 48, of Silver Lake, wanted to go prospecting for uranium, so she bought a Geiger counter and set out for Canada. Recently, Mrs. Madigan announced she had struck it rich—an uranium find—which, she says, AEC spokesmen told her was the "second best (uranium) assay they have found in the world so far."

Harold Goss Speaker At Grossmont PTA

J. Harold Goss, Grossmont exchange teacher last year to Scotland, will be the speaker at Grossmont PTA's February 9 meeting in the school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. He will show slides and give his impressions of his European trip.

Mrs. Wm. Hawks, Founders Day chairman, has made arrangements to celebrate PTA's fifty-ninth birthday also on this date. A silver birthday offering will be taken for the fund of California extension work. Two honorary life memberships will be awarded. Miss Ruth Norberg, a recipient of this scholarship fund from honorary life memberships, will explain the availability and usage of the fund. There will be an art display from the art department of the school. Hostesses for the social hour will be the sophomore parents. Past PTA presidents of Grossmont will be recognized.

LOCAL GIRL SCOUTS TOUR DISNEYLAND

The Girl Scout Troop 280 with Mrs. Irving Johnston leader and Mrs. F. L. Nicodemus assistant leader, spent a very enjoyable weekend January 20 in Burbank and Hollywood, California. The troop stayed at the Girl Scout Little House in Burbank.

The Scouts visited NBC television studios, CBS radio studios, and Stage Five Productions. To top the trip the girls toured Disneyland.

Those making the trip were July Taylor, Peggy Taylor, Linda Henderson, Sandra Summers, Caroline Hall, Bonnie Baxter, Jeanette Lowe, Toni Larson, Loleen Booth, Loxie Johnston, Judy Nicodemus, Charlene Russell, Marjory Holsclaw, Sharon Slay, Mrs. W. L. Larson and Mr. Irving Johnston.

ESCAPE HATCH

Portland, Ore.—Police at the city jail were somewhat puzzled at finding a 15-inch hole in the mesh grating atop the elevator shaft in the jail. Reasonably sure no one had broken into jail, they believed some trusty used the escape hatch to come and go as he pleased. It had been used rather often, too, because the mesh screen had been worn shiny.

Irish Beauty Weds Spring Valley Man

St. John of the Cross Catholic Church in Lemon Grove was the scene of a quiet wedding last Saturday which terminated a long correspondence between a beautiful Irish colleen and a Spring Valley man: Miss Rita Doran of Dublin, Ireland and James J. Harper of 2554 Central Avenue, Spring Valley.

It all started out one day when the former Miss Doran, who was working in a Dublin factory, picked up a magazine to read. It was then she came across an item containing the name and address of James Harper, USN.

The next step was to write him a letter. This she did and in a short time received an answer. This went on for quite some time. And then love crept in between the lines and finally in the lines themselves. Then came the day of his proposal. In all this time neither one had seen the other in person.

Then, a little over two months ago, Miss Doran took passage on a plane bound for America and her true love. It was her first trip by air.

Her trip took her through England, Scotland, Iceland and Newfoundland, finally settling down at the New York airport. From New York she took the plane for her final stage, going south and via Arizona and finally landing at Lindbergh Field.

After the arrival she took up residence at the home of the

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER PLANNED BY CHURCH OF NAZARENE

The 68th World Day of Prayer under the auspices of the National Council of Churches for the Lemon Grove, Spring Valley area will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Church of the Nazarene on Bancroft Road, Spring Valley, with seven participating denominations.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Z. C. Robinette, this fellowship of prayer will be held in conjunction with Christians in 134 countries throughout the world. Last year 20,000 communities in the United States joined in this great observance.

Services begin on the Tonga Islands, where Queen Salote leads her subjects in prayer, and continue throughout the day, closing with the service on St. Lawrence Island, Alaska.

Everyone interested is cordially invited to join in this service of worldwide prayer.

groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Harper of the Central Avenue address.

The new Mrs. Harper said she just loves America and Spring Valley especially, as the neighbors had been so nice to her. Already she has displayed that "Luck of the Irish" by winning for herself a beautiful gas range. This she acquired at an area cooking school January 27.

Asked how American men compare with those in Ireland, the new Mrs. Harper replied, "Ah, men are men, wherever you go. I can truthfully say though, that from what I have observed, the American men are more attentive than the Irishmen. In Ireland they take a girl too much for granted. I suppose that's because there are many more girls there than there are boys."

The new bride still has her father (a brewery cooper), mother, six sisters and one brother in Dublin. She and the groom will make their home in Port Hueneme, California. Mr. Harper is a career man in the Navy.

No Carp in Lake Murray Make Good Fishin'

Fishermen in this area may rest easy as to their fish supply, to be gathered with hook and line through the coming fishing season.

There are no carp in Lake Murray, and never have been.

Dam custodian Simpson, who checks the fish caught in Lake Murray, when asked Wednesday as to carp and the program for their destruction in other lakes and reservoirs in the county, reported to Mrs. Margaret Penry, secretary of the board of directors of the water district, that he had never seen a carp caught in Lake Murray, and no evidence of there being any of this destructive fish in the waters of the lake had ever appeared.

"The carp, a freshwater fish of the family Cyprinidae, a numerous species represented in the U. S. by two groups, one including suckers, buffalo fishes, red horses and mullets and the other by minnows, dace, fat-heads, chubs, etc. All species of carp are soft-finned, with a stout serrated spine, and a mouth lacking teeth, the teeth being developed in the throat. The Cyprinus carpio, a species introduced from Europe, into the U. S., is rapidly increasing in numbers and is a valuable food fish." (This paragraph from New Modern Encyclopedia, published 1943 by Wise & Co.)

Chief objection to carp in reservoirs with bass and other game fish is the naughty habit of carp of eating spawn of the more desirable fish. Lake Hodges is being treated with rotenone, a fish killing chemical costing $5 a gallon.

The chemical is not harmful to humans, and carp are more resistant than other fishes, and 1265 gallons of the chemical were sprayed into Lake Hodges, with thousands of small crappie being the first victims to float belly-up.

on the surface.

The effects of the rotenone disappear in three days, and water will not be released from Lake Hodges for two weeks. In the meantime, it is expected that at least 50 tons of dead fish will be collected and delivered to a Long Beach fertilizer factory.

Customers of Lake Murray can no longer blame the lack of big ones that got away on carp. They will have to find another alibi. Not being a fisherman this reporter cannot suggest any remedy.—D. H.

THE SHOW'S THE THING!

"Rains of Ranchipur" is the top pic at the new Ace Drive-in theatre, located in the heart of Lemon Grove (complete with In-Kar Heaters). A remake of the film version of Louis Bromfield's celebrated novel, "The Rains Came," this stars Lana Turner, Fred MacMurray, Joan Caulfield, Michael Rennie and Richard Burton. It was produced by Frank Ross of "The Robe" fame and is a dramatic story of the troubles that beset a British settlement in India when the great floods came. "Rains of Ranchipur" will make its local debut on February 8. Also the news, color cartoon and a top co-feature.

The Grove theatre, Imperial Avenue in Lemon Grove, presents on Wednesday, February 8, "Three Stripes in the Sun" and "Man With a Gun."
"Three Stripes" stars Aldo Ray and is a saga of a hard-bitten professional soldier who had learned to hate the Japanese while fighting them in the Pacific and his transformation into a man of compassion by his love for a love-lorn Japanese girl. This romantic adventure also stars Phil Carey, Dick York and introduces the Japanese actress, Mitsuko Kimura.

"Man With a Gun" was produced by Samuel Goldwyn Jr. in this top budget story of the wild west of the 1870's. It concerns gunslinger Robert Mitchum who goes around taming tough towns the hard way. Jan Sterling portrays the blonde and beautiful dance hall proprietress.

On Sunday, February 12, the Grove Theatre presents "Man Alone" and "On Top of the World." "Man Alone" is a horse opera starring Ray Milland, Raymond Burr, Ward Bond and Mary Murphy.—B. T.

S. V. Woman Survives Mexican Auto Wreck To Dance for Casa de Oro PTA Frolic

Maureen Hemmer

She feels like dancing now—says Mrs. Robert Hemmer (Maureen) 3425 Harmony Lane, Sweetwater Springs Knolls, Springs Valley, as she tells of the Spanish dance she will perform for the Casa de Oro PTA Valentine Frolic to be held Friday night, February 10, at the Casa de Oro Elementary School located at Agua Dulce Street at Ramona Drive out Homelands way.

Maureen and her husband Robert, and two children, Randy, age 5½, and Danny age 6½, are just recuperating from a very serious automobile accident in Mexico. It all began when the Hemmers, and several other local families left Spring Valley December 15 for the holiday season at Jocotepec in the state of Jalisco Mexico, near Guadalajara. A wonderful time was enjoyed by all at the Hotel La Quinta owned by Maureen's mother. But on the return trip, the Hemmers collided with a truck at Ciudad Obregon, state of Sonora, Mexico, 350 miles below the border at Nogales, Arizona. Ciudad Obregon is near the shrimp port of Guaymas, Mexico. No one was seriously injured excepting shock and bruises, but the automobile was taken to Mexico City for repairs, leaving the Hemmers with no transportation back to the states. However, the kindness of Mr. Hemmer's employer saved the situation, when James Dahl, general contractor of 4073 Eureka Street, Spring Valley, accompanied by Robert's father, Jacob Hemmer, drove his own automobile to Mexico to bring the destitute family home.

Maureen is a member of the Casa de Oro executive board of PTA, holding the office of citizenship chairman. The dance she will do for the Valentine Frolic is called "El Jarabe Tapatio" translated to mean the Dance of the Tapatians. She explains that Tapatio is the local name for the section of Mexico where she lived, that the dance originated there, and portrays the historic life of the people in that area, as does her costume called the "China Poblana" which shows the Mexican flag emblem. To call her people Tapatians would be the same as calling an American a Californian or a Texan in regard to his native state.

The emblem on Maureen's costume depicts an eagle sitting on a cactus devouring a snake. She explains the traditional belief which originated this emblem came about because the Indians were looking for a place to build a city and one of their leaders had a dream that where he would find an eagle on a cactus devouring a snake he should build the city. After searching for this sign the people saw an eagle sitting on a cactus devouring a snake—but it was in the middle of a lake. So they filled in the lake, and there they built Mexico City, which is why Mexico City today is sinking lower each year. Maureen's costume is all hand made by people in her native state near Guadalajara.

The festivities of the Valentine Frolic begin Friday, February 10 at 7:30 p.m., and will include an evening of fun for all parents, teachers and PTA members of the area. The donation will be 50¢ to be contributed toward building up the library and the summer recreation children's fund.

Master of ceremonies for the evening will be Joseph Hulet. Chairman over the entire affair is Mrs. Paul Schwartzkopf, executive board chairman of library and reading of the Casa de Oro PTA. She has appointed as helpers the following PTA executive board members and chairmen: Chairman of entertainment, Mrs. C. Ivar Peterson, with Mrs. Joseph Hulet assisting. Entertainment committee reports many interesting events to take place, among them dancing to records, novelty dances such as broom dance, the square dance, the slipper dance, and the Virginia Reel with audience participation. For those who don't care to dance, there will be card playing and lotto games at the tables. Also a professional barber shop quartet.

The Solidaires will entertain with singing. One of the quartet's members, W. R. Meier, is husband of Casa de Oro's school nurse, Mrs. Rosalie Meier. There will be a baton act by "Georgine," a local girl who teaches the twirling baton class at Grossmont High School. James Dahl, Spring Valley contractor, will entertain with the accordion selections. There will also be audience participation games resembling radio and television panels.

Mrs. C. Ivar Peterson and Mrs. Joseph Hulet are also in charge of the refreshments, which will consist of popcorn on all the tables, and a separate table to sell coffee, cake, and cupcakes. They are arranging the tables in horseshoe effect around the outer edge of the hall to resemble a nightclub. All tables will be covered with white cloths and decorated in red hearts and cupid's made by the Casa de Oro Elementary School children. There will be prizes for some of the games and door prizes for added attraction.

Advertising the event through radio will be Mrs. E. B. Johnson, character and spiritual chairman of Casa de Oro PTA. Mrs. Johnson will appear on station KBAB on February 7 at 9:45 a.m. to be interviewed by El Cajon's Miss Leah McMann.

FRANK COFFMAN COMES BACK FROM FAR EAST

LONG BEACH (Sp.)—Frank H. Coffman Jr., boatswain's mate seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coffman of 2535 Arcadia Ave., Lemon Grove, returned to Long Beach this week aboard the light cruiser USS Manchester which completed a six month cruise in the Far East. During the cruise, the Manchester operated with Attack Carrier Striking Force 77, participated in shore bombardment exercises and conducted various training operations.

Between operating periods, the cruiser visited the ports of Yokosuka, Nagoya, Kobe and Sasebo, Japan; Hong Kong, B. C. C.; and Okinawa.

On her return trip, the Manchester participated in a phase of "Operation Glory," the return of American soldiers killed in Korea for burial in American soil.

Services were held at Yokosuka, Japan, when the ship departed and at Pearl Harbor, T. H., where they will be permanently interred.

Demo Club to Meet At Mrs. Warner's

There will be a meeting of the Lemon Grove Democratic Club at the home of Mrs. H. J. Warner on Friday, February 10 at 8 p.m.

The speaker will be Robert O. Stanforth, attorney, and director of the California Democratic Council, representing the Thirtieth Congressional District. Mr. Stanforth will discuss the results of the convention held in Fresno February 4 and 5 and there will be a general discussion on the prospects of democratic victory in 1956.

Anyone interested in the meeting is invited to attend. For more information please call Mrs. Ted Nachison at JU 2-8886.

'Platter Parade'

By Bob Turnbull HO 9-3448

Ratner Recommendations . . . the following two single disks: "Who Are We" by Miss Double G—Gogi Grant and Tony Allen's "Hurts Me So."

Record Round-Up . . . This week's top five pop tunes in Lemon Grove as compiled by Ratner's Music Store, 8th and Broadway in downtown San Diego are:

"Memories Are Made of This" by Dean "Crooner" Martin, "The Great Pretender" sung to us by that new sensational group, The Platters; "Lisbon Antigua" by Nelson Riddle's fine organization, "Band of Gold" by Don Cherry, and "Rock and Roll Waltz" by Miss Kay Starr.

Best selling classic: "Les Sylphides," Chopin, and "Graduation Ball," Strauss; Arthur Fiedler conducting the Boston Pops orchestra (Victor).

"Big Man" . . . would be putting it mildly when discussing the world's tallest dee-jay who is 6 ft. 10 in. Carl Bailey of KBIG (Catalina) has what there's most of around the isle. No, buddy, that isn't animals or fishes or even people. Catalina has more records than anything else, and there are 60,000 in the fantastic file of Big Bill Bailey.

Carl started collecting while still in San Berdo Hi School, and the pile kept growing while Carl was spinning them around the Southland. One day in 1952 Carl moved out to Avalon, and it's said that that day they had to cut the passenger list to only Bailey and "baggage." Anyway, now they are all stashed away over on the island somewhere.

Lions Sponsored Scouts List Showing of Crafts

The Lions Club, sponsors of Cub Scout Pack 308 of Lemon Grove, together with residents of the community, have an opportunity to see the crafts and projects which have been made by the 12 different dens in the pack.

In honor of Boy Scout Week of America, February 6 to 12, window displays have been placed in local downtown stores by all of the individual dens.

The displays for Den 1, 2, 3 and 4 are being shown in T. P. Hardware, 7820 Broadway. The projects for dens 5, 6, 7 and 8 can be seen at Lemon Grove Hardware, 3340 Main Street.

Walters Jewelry, 7773 Broadway, are presenting the crafts for dens 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Den mothers responsible for the arrangements, and who do much more than "Gordo," are Mrs. Marguerite Tyson, Wilma Collins, Lorna Menden, Evelyn Ellison, Roylene Doolin, Eleanor Denlinger, Florence Gatch, Tiny Schlegel, Marjorie DeFrate, Mrs. Glover, Martha Thomas, Margaret Athy, Mrs. Robert Hartman, Lorraine Jaquith, Rosemary Rotbart, Betty Martin, Jean Shaw, Dora Stewart, Connie Barton, Bobbie Kelly, Ora Black, Julia Embring, Mildred Garcia and Esther Thurman.

Arrangements are being made for the annual Blue and Gold dinner on February 17 at 6:30 which will be held at the Junior High School auditorium. Over 500 in Cub Scout families are expected to attend the potluck dinner.

L. M. BAPTISTS PLAN MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

Sunday will mark the beginning of the First Annual Bible and Missionary Conference at the La Mesa First Baptist Church, 8111 Orange Ave.

Dr. J. Vernon McGee, nationally known pastor of the Church of the Open Door in Los Angeles, will be speaking on the Book of Ruth at the morning meetings, and on the Book of Jonah in the evenings. Missionary speakers from at home and abroad will be heard.

A free luncheon will be served those who attend the 10 a.m. meetings on Monday through Wednesday, with a potluck dinner on Wednesday at 6:15 p.m. A free nursery will be provided at all meetings.

A Youth Rally is scheduled for all young people through college age on Sunday at 6 p.m.

Marjorie Murawski To Wed on March 4

Mr. and Mrs. Murawski of 870 Dell Anne Place, Lomita Village, announce the engagement of their daughter Marjorie to Richard Venton Davis, Jr., of San Francisco.

The wedding will take place on Sunday, March 4 at the First Congregational Church in Lemon Grove at 6 o'clock. It will be a candlelight ceremony, with the Reverend Bruno Puschel officiating.

Marjorie is 18 and her intended husband is 22. Mr. Davis is a Gunner's Mate third class, in the United States Navy.

ESTHER CIRCLE PLANS VALENTINE'S PARTY

A Valentine Dessert Card Party is being sponsored by the Esther Circle of the Women's Fellowship Tuesday at 12:30 in Friendship Hall of First Congregational Church, Lemon Grove.

Hostesses will be Dashed Newton, Myrtle Garrett, Anna Craig, Dorothy Lindsley, Bea Purtee, Mrs. Herder, Hannah Abbott, Florence Thomas, Doris Boston and Edna Anderson.

MRS. RADICE IS MADE PRESIDENT OF JOB'S DAUGHTERS

Job's Daughters held a Mother's Tea in the home of Mrs. William Lee, Sunday, February 5 at 3:30 p.m. at which time the following officers were elected: Mrs. George Radice, president; Mrs. William Stark, vice president; Mrs. Delah Brehl, secretary, and Mrs. Russell Gardner, treasurer.

Those attending the tea were Mrs. J. Wrede, Torgensen, Toxell, Lee, Eddy, Dodson, Coyle, Reid, Rife, Radice, Horton, Harris, Cooper, Taylor, Munn, Stark, Youngblood, and Carol Youngblood, Jean Lee and Doris Radice.

Vista La Mesa Playground Improvement To Be Considered By School Board

The Lemon Grove School Board will consider plans for warehousing and storage buildings Tuesday evening at the regular monthly meeting at the Education Center on Lincoln Street. Beginning at 7:30, the meeting will also be concerned with possible development of the Vista La Mesa playground.

Other items listed on the tentative agenda include the consideration of granting an easement to the local irrigation district for sewer connections, discussion of organization of district classified employees, renewal of burglary insurance, and the possibilities of a spring and summer recreation program for Lemon Grove youth.

All meetings of the board are open to the public, and interested school patrons and community residents are invited to attend.

LEMON GROVE THEATRE GUILD ELECTS OFFICERS

The newly formed Lemon Grove Theatre Guild, a group of active thespians who intend to produce some top plays in this area, met at the home of Mrs. Dixie Lowe last Monday and elected officers and discussed various plays for possible use in the near future.

New officers are: Dixie Lowe, president; Ruby Hudgins, vice-president; Luana La Tour, secretary; Travis Keeton, treasurer, and Bob Turnbull, publicity chairman.

Newcomer from Niagara Falls Likes Lemon Grove's Sunshine

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burns and two children, a girl, 13 and a boy 7, who came here six months ago from Niagara Falls, New York, are strongly in favor of Lemon Grove's climate and sunshine.

They drove 3400 miles in coming here last August, in their endeavor to find a cool road. They wanted to avoid the southern route, so they went from Texas to Salt Lake, then across Nevada to San Francisco, then down the coast.

It was 103 in Niagara Falls when they left, with a higher temperature part of the way. Mr. Burns says the trailer courts have air conditioning, otherwise they couldn't have stood the heat, and they were able to sleep nights.

Niagara Falls, according to Burns, is the power center and the chemical center of the world. Hundreds of factories employ thousands of men, and there is plenty of work for all. In fact, the jobs hunt the man, and the pay scale is higher than out here, with living costs lower. Also, taxes are lower.

Mr. Burns was employed by one firm for 25 years. He is an electrician, carries a union card. Electricians there get $3.75 per hour, with double time for Saturday and Sunday work.

Mr. Burns was opening and marking stock for his new hardware store at 8300 Imperial Avenue, three doors north of Mason's Feed Store in a brand new build-

GERMAN SHEPHERD CLUB TO SHOW

One of dogdom's most beautiful and intelligent breeds, German Shepherds, will go on parade at a show this Sunday, February 12 in the Del Mar Fairgrounds. The time, 12:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

It will be the first all-age plan B, AKC sanctioned match of the German Shepherd Dog Club of San Diego County, Inc.

The show will be free and will feature pictorial displays of German Shepherds at man aiding jobs. There will be seeing eye dogs, U.S. Army dogs, Avalanche Corps dogs of the Swiss Alps, hearing sheep, and Dearborn, Michigan police workers.

Other attractions will be children's handling class, veteran's class and champions on parade.

Miss Norma Lee Serviss will judge. Entry fee is $1 for each purebred German Shepherd dog over two months and eligible for AKC registration. Entries will be taken from 10 a.m. until noon the day of the match at the Del Mar Fairgrounds.

When interviewed by a REVIEW reporter.

We gathered that the Niagara Frontier, which includes Buffalo and other cities nearby, has a disagreeable winter climate. The winter of 1955 had 25 straight days of snow, with plenty of cold wind blowing off of Lake Erie.

Mr. Burns will carry a full line of hardware and paints. He invites a visit from his neighbors and hopes New Yorkers will come in and chat.—D. H.

NETHERLANDERS VISIT GROSSMONT TO STUDY SCHOOL SYSTEM

Willem W. de Jong and Jan van Linschoten of the Netherlands are visiting the Foothills area as guests of the Grossmont U. H. S. District this week to study the educational system and to observe the regional life and customs of the community. Both men are teachers and are touring America under the International Education Program.

The two Dutch teachers have been taking a course in American Civilization at the University of Pennsylvania and have toured several points of interest in the country. They will return to the Netherlands in February.

While here, they will be house guests of local families and will visit Grossmont, Helix, and El Cajon Valley high schools, San Diego city schools, San Diego Junior College, San Diego State College, and objects of local interest such as the zoo, the harbor, industrial plants, and Mexico.

ST. PHILIP'S RUMMAGE SALE SET FOR THIS WEEK

Inquirer's Class and confirmation instruction at St. Philip's will begin on Thursday evening, March 1 at 8 p.m. for adults, and on Thursday afternoons at 3:30 for children. Register name with the vicar, if interested in these classes.

The World Day of Prayer will be February 17 at 7:30 in the Church of the Nazarene on Bancroft Road, Spring Valley. St. Philip's will participate in this program, which is carried on all over the world on that day.

Don't forget the Rummage Sale Friday and Saturday of this week. It looks as if we will hold the sale in the old quarters of the First National Bank, next to the post office. It is not too late to bring your rummage for the sale.

BAPTIST YOUNG WOMEN INVITE MEMBERSHIP

The Young Woman's Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church of Lemon Grove have a busy schedule planned for them for the next few months. This Auxiliary was organized last September with nine girls, from sixteen through twenty-four years of age. They named themselves the "Irene Dalby" auxiliary recently after a missionary to the Indians in Arizona. . . . Many of the girls know her personally and correspond with her regularly. As their project for the month of February the girls are giving a Valentine party for the boys and girls in the Sunbeam Mission Band. The Counselor, Mrs. Arvel Carlyle welcomes all girls from 16 to 24 into this organization.

Fifteenth of Month Now Limit for Water Bills Payment

Byron Miller, business manager of Helix Water District, has submitted a schedule of assessing delinquent payments of water bills, which has been the twelfth day of the month ever since the district was organized in 1926, with a small fine charged for payment after that date, to the fifteenth of the month, thus allowing three days more before assessing a penalty.

Miller found that most utilities allowed 15 days, and so advised the board. It is thought that water users will be accommodated appreciably by the added days, especially where the second check comes in on the fifteenth.—D. H.

County Beauticians To Mark National Beauty Salon Week

Hairdressers and cosmetologists of San Diego are making plans for a big celebration "dedicated to more beautiful women" in honor of National Beauty Salon Week, which will be observed during the week of February 12. The program planned for this area will be directed by Faye Rice, officer of the San Diego County Cosmetologists.

Serving on the National Beauty Salon Week Committee in San Diego with Faye Rice will be the following committee members: Jessie Poor, Grace Mitchell, Welma Langenheder, Etta Filippot, Raymond Spencer, Charles Slaugh, Rudy Callas, Fannie Enser, Naomi Lewis.

Thumb Size Item Replaces Double Handful Of Conventional Parts of Radio

Marilyn Dean points to revolutionary new power transistor that installed in some 1956 auto radios lower left, replaces conventional parts at lower right including vibrator, three capacitors, and three tubes and sockets. Radio requires relatively little electric current permitting it to be played for hours without engine running and without lowering the battery. Vibratorless radio has no hum and is the equivalent of an eight-tube set.

A Lot of Danish Culture Comes From Danish Beer Says Columnist

By HENRI L. LELLE

"Once upon a time" as Hans Christian Andersen might have begun this story, there was a man named Joe, and he lived in Copenhagen. About the time that America was emerging from its civil war, Joe traveled to Germany and there he met a brewmeister who showed him a culture of yeast and explained the marvels of this wonderful ingredient which was used in the making of beer.

Joe was so impressed with the story of yeast, that he appropriated a small piece and concealed it in the crown of his top hat, and brought it back to Copenhagen. Although his mother did not share Joe's enthusiasm, she knew that her son possessed a scientific mind and so she allowed him to use her large copper wash tub, into which he carefully placed the ingredients and followed the instructions as well as he remembered them.

From this simple beginning was born a thriving commercial brewery which prospered beyond Joe's wildest imagination. Joe had only one son named Carl who worked along with his father in the brewery. One day after a father-and-son argument, Carl quit the brewery and in defiance, started a brewery of his own across the street. The new venture prospered.

Several years later Joe and his son resolved their differences and merged their two breweries, making it one of the largest commercial enterprises in all Denmark. But not before Joe established a foundation for the advancement of science and physics, which was his main interest in life.

Joe preferred scientific philanthropies, and spent great sums establishing a scientific laboratory. When Joe died he provided for the perpetual endowment of his laboratory; a biological institute for cancer research; and the Frederiksberg Castle National Historical museum.

Carl's interest was in art, beauty and culture. Carl's efforts to disseminate art have left their mark upon Copenhagen; at almost every important street intersection, as well as in parks and public squares, statuary and granite sculptures can be seen and enjoyed today.

In 1879 he set up a trust fund for the adornment of public squares and grounds in Copenhagen. One year shortly before the war, the trustees found it necessary to purchase 2500 statues, all in one year, so vast was the interest from this fund.

Not only did Carl like sculpture but he loved church spires and steeples for public buildings. Thus Copenhagen has become known as "The City of Beautiful Towers."

Carl put aside a huge sum for an appropriate steeple on the "Church of Our Lady." Architects from all over the world are still submitting plans, but so far the steeple has not been agreed upon.

Why I Think You Should Go To Church This Sunday

ORVAL C. BUTCHER, PASTOR
SKYLINE WESLEYAN METHODIST CHURCH

ONE IN A SERIES OF ANNOUNCEMENTS SPONSORED BY FRED WARD LUMBER CO.

Early in the morning of January 20, 1953, the man who was that day to be inaugurated the nation's thirty-fourth President entered a quiet Washington church. There, surrounded by his family and joined by his Cabinet and their families, he sought strength in prayer and in the Word of God for his overwhelming new responsibilities. Former presidents had gone to church with their families for private prayer on Inauguration Day, but this service was made unique by the presence of members of the Cabinet and their families. The company joined with General Eisenhower in singing the familiar hymn, "Our God, Our Help in ages Past."

Satisfying it is to know a pattern of Church attendance is set for us by the leader of our great America. However there are eternally greater reasons you should attend services for the worship of Almighty God.

1. God's Word admonishes it. "And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together as the manner of some is . . ." Hebrews 10:24, 25.
2. Man's heart hungers for it. "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh cry out for the living God." Psalm 84:2.
3. Jesus did it. "And He (Jesus) came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up: and as His custom was, He went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up for to read." Luke 4:16.

The Church is God's ordained institution through which He works to get to your soul. You should attend church.

VLM PTA to Mark Its Organization's Founding

Members of the Vista La Mesa Parent-Teacher organization will attend a birthday party to commemorate the organization of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers tonight, February 9, at 7:45 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Fifty nine years ago the 17th day of February, two courageous women started a dream—now come true, by organizing the National Congress of Mothers, dedicated to better homes, better schools, and better communities. Today this dream is shared by over 9,000,000 in the U. S. A. alone, who are interested in the welfare of all children, regardless of race or creed.

The evening is planned as a celebration, Mrs. J. D. McCaffrey, Founders Day chairman, announced. An evening during which the unit members will pay tribute to the founders, Mrs. Alice Birney and Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, and to the four past presidents of the Vista La Mesa PTA: Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Wm. Leroy Birch and Mrs. Harley Thurland, of Vista La Mesa, and Mrs. Lyl Janes of Carlsbad.

Highlight will be a skit "What's My Secret?" Panel members are Mrs. S. K. Solleder, program chairman for Ninth District CCPT, Mrs. Genevieve Oliphant, speech correctionist of the Lemon Grove School District and two unit dads, Bob White and Robert

MT. HELIX COUNCIL MARKS PTA FOUNDERS DAY

The Mt. Helix Council, CCPT, head as its guests at the February meeting of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers Founders Day luncheon. Glen Murdock, superintendent of the La Mesa-Spring Valley school district, and Byron Netzel, superintendent of the Lemon Grove school district. Mrs. Don Irwin, council president, and Mrs. James Gilleen, council Founders Day chairman, represented Mt. Helix council at the annual district-wide celebration, which this year marks the 59th anniversary of the birth of PTA and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The founders, Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst, mother of the well-known publisher, and Mrs. Alice Birney, are being remembered this month by the majority of PTA units throughout this area by skits, and honorary life membership presentation ceremonies.

Birth Certificate Change for Better Protection

According to a report from the San Diego Department of Public Health, fingerprints of mothers and the footprints of infants are now being placed on the reverse side of all birth certificates. This change in birth registration became effective January 1, 1956.

According to the new law, the prints will be taken before the mother and child are taken to separate rooms. This means that the prints will probably be taken in the delivery room.

The primary purpose of this birth certificate change is to assist in preventing the mixup of newly born infants.

GOLDEN PTA MARKS FOUNDING WITH SPAGHETTI FEED

Founders' Day will be celebrated at Golden Avenue School PTA meeting Thursday evening, February 9 by a spaghetti dinner to which all are invited. Fifty cents will be the one price, children and adults alike. Serving will begin at 6:30 p.m.

The traditional Founders' Day cake, as well as others brought by members, will be the dessert. A skit by several members of the association will be a feature of the program. There will also be the awarding of the Honorary Life Membership to some deserving person of the community.

At the meeting of the executive board last Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cremer, several matters were discussed that need attention during the coming month.

Suggestions were asked by Mrs. Alice Gomes, president, for the school gift given annually by the PTA. No decision could be reached so Mrs. Gomes appointed Mrs. Alta Holmberg and Mrs. Laura A. Rose as a committee to investigate needs of the school.

Dan Wilder, treasurer, reported that he purchased $27 worth of electrical equipment to be used in our Halloween carnivals. The $23 remaining in the original $50 fund will be spent on other needed materials.

Civil defense evacuation plans were furthered by the announcement that the planning had progressed to the committee stage where junior high and Golden Avenue will work together as their plan will be a common one.

THINGS DOIN' & BREWIN' About Civic Center

By DICK HENDERSON

Lex Lord, registrar of voters since 1942, finished his work for the county after 30 years' service, and will spend his retirement and pension traveling around by auto and visiting friends in various parts. When Lex took charge of the office, succeeding Charlie Duffy, there were 108 city precincts, compared with 916 today. His office conducted 94 elections last year, on formation of special districts, school bonds, state allocations, annexation, incorporation and other matters.

The office staff of 20 grows to 7200 at election time. Election officials at the various polling places are largely of the feminine gender, and lots of diplomacy is required at times.

Lex Lord has been the best-liked department head in the county service, and every employee felt that he had the best boss. After 30 years' personal acquaintance, this reporter is proud to have been one of Lex' "boys."

Here's hoping he will enjoy his retirement for many years.

New Registrar:
Scott Palmer, 45, assistant registrar for five years, was appointed to the office Feb. 1 by the supervisors when a civil service examination revealed that he was the only qualified candidate. Palmer was born in San Diego, has worked for the county since 1934, and in registrar's office since 1942. His grandfather was one of the firm of Palmer Bros., house movers. This firm moved a large house from Fourth and Fir streets across the bay to Coronado and didn't crack the plaster. They used a team of big gray horses and a winch to pull the buildings along the street.

Not as fast as the present day trucks, that yank a house along at 20 m.p.h., but pretty good for 60 years ago. This reporter went to Middleton School with Scott Palmer, the uncle of the present registrar, who died 20 years ago.

Grand Jury:
The county grand jury's welfare committee hopes for "immediate and decisive action" by the board of supervisors in ordering changes in the county department of public welfare.

A committee statement said "The grand jury feels there is no longer any excuse for further delay in correcting the obvious maladministration of the welfare department which is resulting in daily waste of public funds."

The jury, which has investigated the department for more than a year, has called for the discharge of John Mueller as county director of public welfare.

Coroner's Report:
Coroner A. E. Gallagher's annual report to the supervisors showed 181 fatalities, with 104 in the city, from accidents. Falls took the lives of 71, mostly elderly people.

There were 182 motor vehicle fatalities, with 177 chargeable to the county's traffic toll. Five deaths from accident or deaths which occurred on private property. Forty-one of the traffic deaths were in collisions of two autos, 32 were auto-pedestrian, with half of the victims very young or very old.

Gallagher reported he and his deputies drove a total of 124,092 miles investigating 1,529 deaths in 1955, or a monthly average of 10,341 miles. The deaths last year were 31 more than in 1954, with January the month with most deaths.

Homicides numbered 23 in 1955. In 1954, 26 homicides occurred in the county. The suicide rate totaled 114, an increase over last year of 21. Twenty persons drowned and industrial accidents claimed ten victims, while 11 persons died of asphyxiation.

Road Tax Not Favored
The supervisors individually are opposed to a suggested road tax, proposed by State Senator Collier of Yreka.

Supervisor Dave Bird, chairman of the board, said it would take a 20c tax to improve county roads, as proposed by Collier. Bird said most of the county valuation is in the metropolitan area.

Joe Mack, county road commissioner, said he would be in favor of any tax for highways. "If we can afford it," he doubts if additional property taxes should be levied for road work. "I believe gas taxes should be paid on the basis of mileage of roads and their use." Under this formula, San Diego County would be given equal tax funds with Los Angeles County.

"It's only fair that a county with lots of miles of roads and not much use should be equal with a county with a few miles of roads and lots of use," he said.

League of Women Voters Continues Study of 'Liberties'

The Foothills area units of the League of Women Voters will hold their next regular meetings on Monday, February 13. The day unit, with Mrs. Edward A. Block as chairman, will meet at noon at the home of Mrs. Robert Richardson, 5707 Hardy Avenue. Members are asked to bring a sack lunch. Coffee will be served. The evening unit will meet for the 13th only at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Venn, 576 Morgan Way, El Cajon, at 8 p.m. The unit generally meets at the Fire-place Room of the La Mesa Junior High School.

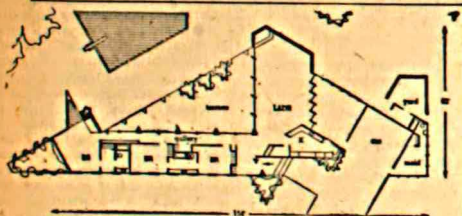

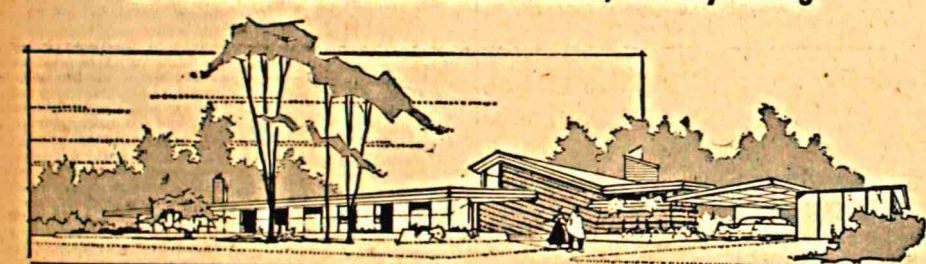

Both groups are continuing the current league study of "Individual Liberties and the Public Interest." Mrs. James Crouch and Mrs. J. C. Cable will serve as discussion leader and resource person respectively for the day unit and Mrs. E. E. Ham and Mrs. Kenneth Venn will serve the evening unit.

Interested women in the Foothills area should contact Mrs. Block, HO 6-2426 or Mrs. Harold Walba, HO 9-1809, for information.

An Asbestos-Sided Home With a Warm, Friendly Feeling

THE home builder who is looking for something different, yet practical, will find it in a new design by MacKie and Kamrath of Houston, Tex., two young architects who have earned an international reputation for both residential and commercial work.

The design, made at the invitation of the Asbestos-Cement Products Association, illustrates how asbestos-cement siding shingles can impart charm and distinction to better class homes.

It was one of six prepared by outstanding architects in various parts of the nation.

The Houston architects' primary goal was to create a house "with an intimate, warm, friendly character, built to a personal scale."

Facing inward on a triangular terrace, the house includes a sleeping area of three bedrooms and a large glass-fronted living and dining room. In the sketch above the sleeping area is seen on the left. The flat-roofed wing has exterior siding of asbestos-cement board. The living room wing rises to story-and-a-half height on the terrace exposure and slopes to single-story level for an adjoining utility room and carport.

The living room-utility room section features an unusual use of asbestos-cement siding, a material which has gained great popularity because of its performance qualities and smart new styling.

On the sidewalls of greatest height, the shingles are applied at an angle paralleling the eaves to add interest and to emphasize the angular planning. Redwood mouldings occur between every two courses of shingles.

The asbestos products, of mineral origin, give a feeling of strength and permanence; the redwood moulding contributes a warm naturalness.

Because of their durability, fire-safety and attractive colors, asbestos shingles have become one of the most popular of siding materials. A companion product, rigid asbestos roofing shingles, has been a favored roof protection for more than fifty years.

LEVIS & LACES HAVE MARDI GRAS MOTIF FOR FEBRUARY DANCE

The gay and festive air of the Mardi Gras reigned at Levis and Laces' February party held Saturday night at the Woman's Clubhouse.

Colorful costumes were seen on some of the dancers, and our caller, Clarence Montgomery, was really "turned out" in top hat and tails—a bit different than the regular square dance apparel we are all used to seeing.

The hall was a mass of color, with balloons and serpentine streamers everywhere. Ed and Ruth Miller, with the able assistance of their committee, really made the party one to be long remembered.

A king and queen for the grand march were selected from those present, by a drawing, and were presented gifts, and crowned by the president and vice president, Clyde Walker and Pat Andrew.

Guest callers assisting Clarence were Marion and Tom Ashton, Ralph Miller, Wally Riggs, and Billy Ott. The Heartland Couple of the Month, Lorraine and Chuck Green, representing the Hix Mixer Club, paid a visit during the early evening. Ruth Engle, president of the Heartland Square Dance Federation, was an honored guest, along with many other guest dancers from the area.

At the close of the dance, assorted pies, ice cream and coffee were served to all present.

Elaborate plans are now in progress for Levis and Laces anniversary dance to be held on Saturday night, March 3, at the Lemon Grove Junior High School Cafeteria. All square dancers are cordially invited to come and help make the second anniversary a really happy occasion.

Levis and Laces intermediate class continues to meet every Monday night, and the regular dance night for the club is every Wednesday.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It has been my experience lately that governmental agencies and supported organizations are getting more and more onto high horses, and instead of being the servant of the people are trying to make the people the servant of them. They care very little in some instances how the people feel or how they are affected. They are coming to say we do as we see fit regardless of what it does to anyone else.

This attitude is entirely wrong and somehow is going to have to be corrected. It is up to the people themselves to get out and correct such wrong doings. The general public has become too apathetic and so they are being taken advantage of.

One of the things that has come up lately especially in the Lemon Grove area is the attitude of the people who are putting in our new water line. This is a fine thing and to the advantage of everyone in the community, but the attitude that the contractors to be is not to our advantage but to theirs.

A case in instance. At my place of business I had been flooded out many times. When I first built I was 18 inches above the alley, but the culverts in the street would not handle the run off. I went to the county about the situation and after some thousands of dollars loss they put a new culvert and there by raising the level of the alley. I was flooded out more so I built a retaining wall in back of my place to approximately twenty inches above the floor level of my place of business. The alley is now above my floor level.

The new water line is started. The construction company comes to me and asks me to tear down an over-hang or awning at the back of my place of business so they can get their ditches through. The man tells me I am encroaching three feet onto county property. I know where my property line is and I tell him. He says I am wrong because engineers told him it was three feet inside of where I said it was. They can't be wrong, so I must be, regardless of where the property stakes are. He told me if I didn't take the awning down they would, this angered me so I told him he would have to get a court order to do so. He said he would. He didn't, he couldn't.

The ditch was dug and part of the embankment I had built was torn away. This was without my permission and was an encroachment onto my own property.

The rains came and there was still a mess. They had not filled in at the spot where they took dirt from my property and the property next door. We sent a letter to the irrigation district concerning this and a man came out.

He told me they would fix the spot. The construction men filled in more dirt next door to me but they went off and left the hole into my property and the danger of flooding. The man had told me when I asked if he would put dirt back there, that he didn't have to, the engineers said it was all right the way it was so he wasn't going to do anything about it.

The engineers sit in their offices and say this is right but do they find out what actually happens, how much I am flooded out, no they can't be wrong, they have licenses to show they know what they talk about. I just imagine I get flooded out. That 6 inches of water I get through my place is a figment of my imagination.

My taxes go up but nothing is done to relieve my flood losses. It gets so I can't even pay my taxes. That's all right, when I haven't paid for a long enough time they'll come and take my property away, but why fix it so I can make enough money to pay my taxes. That way they would be doing something for the people and that cannot happen.

I am pretty bitter and I have good reason to be. There are others who are bitter too. This ditch couldn't be put in in such a way that it would not inconvenience anyone. No! The ditch has to be put in regardless. Who it hurts is no matter. That is none of their business, yet the people pay taxes to make the ditch possible.

That is not my gripe. Are we going to lay down and let these things continue or do we go out and see that such practices stop.

A. E. Lindsley
7310 Broadway

Dear Editor:
As Chairman of the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area for the 1956 March of Dimes, may I express my sincere gratitude to you, for the excellent coverage of which you gave to freely in both your newspapers, and the time you devoted to us, when I know you were a very busy man, but you always had a friendly ear and a big smile, making the planning a great deal easier.

It has been an extreme pleasure working with you, and your sincere efforts contributed greatly to our success.

Please accept by sincere thanks and that of the San Diego Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Sincerely yours,
Thomas E. Farrow Sr.
Area Chairman
For the March of Dimes

To the Editor:

It's lucky when you live in Lemon Grove! There are many reasons why individuals may feel this to be true, but a specific reason touching every parent with a child in our public school system was brought to mind after reading an article in the February issue of the Coronet magazine: "The Sham of School Health Examinations" as presented by Walter A. Gardell, director, division of physical welfare, Elizabeth, N. J., Public Schools.

Assuming that the statements in the article have some basis in fact, let's see how Lemon Grove stands with the nation in this "national disgrace."

Point one: "Though we are spending $30,000,000 a year for school examinations, conservative medical estimates indicate that only one pupil in 15 gets an adequate examination during his entire school career." We will ignore the word "adequate" for the moment and say only that every child who remains in a Lemon Grove Elementary School for a year has the services of an examining physician made available to him. This is an offer, not a requirement and the examination may not take place for one of the following reasons: (1) failure on the part of the parent to give written consent, (2) absence of the pupil on the scheduled date. In the latter case a new date is set, and it is a matter of record that as many as four or five attempts have been made before examination is finally given.

Point two: "In thousands of schools neither doctors nor medically trained personnel administer the tests. Instead, the principal, a teacher, or even an older pupil, officiates." In Lemon Grove, all examinations are conducted by well qualified doctors connected with the county health department with the assistance of the school nurse.

Point three: "The majority of school examinations are conducted right in the schoolroom, where there is no privacy." Each school in the Lemon Grove district has a room used for this purpose where the child is given as much privacy as he would receive in a doctor's office. Parents are encouraged to be present, and the child strips for his examination.

Point four: "Millions of school children are still given hearing tests by the crudest methods, when we have available an excellent device for testing hearing, the audiometer." The Lemon Grove School District owns an audiometer and employs a person trained in its use.

Point five: "Millions more get only a simple test of their visual acuity, in spite of the fact that we have modern machines that provide tests of all phases of vision." Both Snellen and Massachusetts tests are used in our district. We may fall short here in having the best equipment available, but until such time as we are financially able to purchase expensive modern machines, the use of what we have, plus constant vigilance on the part of parent as well as teacher will do much to prevent serious difficulties on the part of any child.

There you have it. Read, compare, and be glad that your child attends school in a district in such as ours.

Dear Editor:
Isn't there someone who can help the poor bus-riding public? Hardly anyone in general and the bus company in particular seems to care that the segment of population which owns no car cannot get away from home on Sundays or holidays because the bus company stops their service on these days. I think one or two trips on Sundays would permit some of us automobileless people to go to church, a privilege we do not now enjoy.

If you could induce the bus company to realize that they should worry about people instead of schedules, maintenance costs and capital investment, they maybe would fine enough humanness in their makeup to give the kind of service their charter says they should give.

C. E. Watkins
1741 Englewood Dr.
Sorry, Mr. Watkins. The bus people say they've got to take in enough money on these trips to make a profit. They can show charts proving such trips are money losers. There seems some question as to whether a utility charter guarantees the public a fair service, or whether it guarantees the utility a good profit.

Dr. Nicholl Sets Up
Local Scout Drive

First meeting of the committee for the Lemon Grove Division for the 1956 Annual Boy Scout Sustaining membership drive was held last week at Michael's Restaurant.

Chairman Dr. Calvin Nicholl met with the six Majors who are Robert Landis, Alfred Cole, Norman Flannery, Tim Miller, Gil Ray and Norman Phillips. Each of these six Majors will recruit five Team Captains and report at the next meeting which will be held at Michael's Restaurant.

Says He Can Buy Hootch Whenever He Wants

By BOB TURNBULL

Many ideas, thoughts, suggestions and remarks have undoubtedly come to many minds in regards to the latest newspaper headlines concerned with juvenile delinquency. I know several have occurred to me! So without any further ado I'd like to suggest ideas I'd like to see put into effect immediately, if not sooner.

To start right from the opening curtain—"Clamp Down." I think many juvenile delinquents get off scott-free because of their age. If our law enforcement agencies and courts show these idiots they can't get away with some of their immature stunts I doubt if they would be repeaters.

Some habitual offenders are "out of it." It's practically impossible to reason with them in their psychic condition. But giving up, going away, retreating.

Second in a series of three articles having to do with the j. d.

from or forgetting these delinquents isn't the answer. Those in a position to help must smash through the barrier and help these unfortunate boys and girls before "it's too late."

There is no glamor in being a delinquent, yet when a juvenile crime is publicized many of the offenders enjoy the fuss and attention. Their cravings aren't too much different than an adult's.

Many members of a minority race feel "left out" and consequently resort to breaking the law in order to gain attention or recognition, regardless of what type it is. If the minority groups were given more favorable attention for their good deeds I believe j. d. would drop a notch.

I firmly believe juvenile delinquency begins in the home. A newborn child has no mind of his own. It is a blank. The environment, parental guidance and general upkeep of the child will be the completely dominating factor in the child's character as he reaches his puberty era of life. If a home foundation is firm and "good" then j. d. will drop several notches.

Many facilities await the child

Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds Rewarded With Free Movie

All of the Blue Birds and Camp Fire girls who participated in the recent peanut sale will be rewarded with a free movie at the downtown Fox Theatre Saturday morning at 9:45.

Girls will be taken to the movie in privately chartered buses. One bus will leave the Lemon Grove Junior High School at 9 a.m.

A second bus will leave the Shell Service Station in Spring Valley at 8:45 and proceed to the Lemon Avenue School where it will pick up more girls and leave there at 9 a.m.

Girls will be charged 25c each for the round trip and should get the money to their troop leader before the Saturday of the movie.

That is mentally and physically backward or advanced. Many times the "average" or "normal" (whichever you prefer) child is left with the masses. Better programs for individuality should be in effect. Know that is a hard task to accomplish, but it's still an answer to youthful crime waves, and helping the chart show j. d. has dropped still another notch.

Getting alcohol is no problem for most teenagers. I know if I wanted to get some there would be several places that wouldn't hesitate a minute to sell. I am only thankful I don't engage in alcoholic beverages. Those teenagers who "tip up" know of several establishments they could visit to get their firewater. If you clamp down on places that sell liquor to underage people there you help j. d. drop still another notch.

One of the greatest mistakes made recently was banning night basketball games by the police chief of San Diego. I know he acted in good faith and was interested in the welfare of the majority of the "good students" but I honestly think it was an unwise move. Punishing the majority because of a few won't solve the present j. d. problem.

Not counting repeat arrests there were 3,000 juvenile arrests last year. I wonder how many adults were arrested?

Flower Raising is His Hobby

Chas. Hesser, realtor, likes flowers, and likes to do the necessary work himself. Last week, before the rain, Hesser prepared ground for 237 gladioli bulbs that he had saved. As he had made trenches for more bulbs, he bought a package of 20, in ten assorted colors, including blue, for a $ and planted them eight inches apart. The others were placed a foot apart. With the 20 boughten bulbs, Hesser expects to have lots of glads in the next show, maybe some prize winners.

Roses are also favorites of Hesser's, and he went home Thursday about 3:30 to plant several bushes he had dug holes for, but couldn't get in before the last rain Hesser's home grounds cover 7/10 of an acre, which is enough to take care of, and the flower crop gives pleasure to him and his neighbors.

If you have not already done so, now is the time to prune roses. If you have any doubts about what to do and how short to cut 'em, call any nurseryman, or call Hesser. He knows the answers.—D. H.

JR. HI PTA HAS FOUNDERS' DAY COMMEMORATION AT CORTEZ HOTEL

This year's Ninth District CCPT Founders' Day luncheon took place in El Cortez Hotel dining room February 6 at 12 noon. This annual celebration is a birthday party which commemorates the organization of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mmes. E. F. Brady, president; Robert Beckham, Founders' Day chairman; and the school principal, Ben I. Schei, attended as guests of the Lemon Grove Junior High PTA.

Tuesday in the Home Economics room of the school the executive board met to make final plans for the Founders' Day meeting to be Thursday, February 16 at 7:30 p.m. The past presidents of the PTA unit will be honored and the Honorary Life Membership presentation will be made.

Mrs. E. F. Brady, president, head the reports of the various committee chairmen.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served.

LAW IN ACTION

MORE POWER TO YOU

Few people know how to get the most out of the law. The rest of us squint at it as something to get out of trouble with; at best, something to keep out of trouble.

But constructive law? The idea. Well, say you invent a super-widget, but can't manufacture or sell. Not your line. You've two friends—a mechanic and a good salesman on the go.

Law would let you work together: as employer and employee, as independent contractors, as partners, or as a corporation, or you could license your invention to these others for royalties.

Modern law can get work done. Some college found out the other day that only about half the people who need wills have them. They think of wills as tying their hands. Actually wills free them.

While you live or afterwards through your will, you can give your property to a trustee—a friend, relative, associate, bank, or other "fiduciary." Under the eye of a court, the trustee will follow your instructions. Trusts can serve almost any need you have.

In principle, trusts are simple: As a "grantor," you choose and turn your property over to a trustee. You tell him what to do. He does it.

Don't tie your trustee's hands.

Note: The State Bar of California offers this column for you to know more about our laws.

One St. Louis pioneer set up a trust to help people stranded in ex-carts. But no ex-carts! The court had to change the trust to serve a purpose the grantor might have approved.

You can set up trusts to provide for income, funds for education, an annuity, or charitable gift. Many a man has put property in trust to pay his wife an income while she lived, with the rest to go afterwards to their children.

People use "spendthrift" trusts to support someone who, because of health, inexperience, or poor judgment, may waste, lose, or blow the money in. The grantor can go to the beneficiary's trustee to support someone who, because of health, inexperience, or poor judgment, may waste, lose, or blow the money in. The grantor can go to the beneficiary's trustee to support someone who, because of health, inexperience, or poor judgment, may waste, lose, or blow the money in.

The point is this: You can call upon the law to do remarkable things during your life and afterwards, things you could not otherwise do.

Begonia Lovers To Meet Monday

San Miguel Branch of the American Begonia society will meet Monday at 7:30 in the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall in Lemon Grove.

Charles Williams, president, will conduct the business meeting and Albert Henderson, vice president, will introduce David R. Roberts of the Balboa Park nursery, and who will talk on flowering shade plants.

A social hour will follow and interested people are always welcome.

M. H. GIRL SCOUTS COLLECT $57 FOR POLIO

Thanks to the many people who stopped by and helped make the Monterey Heights Girl Scouts Block of Dimes a success. The amount of money taken in may sound small in comparison to some organizations but knowing that the girls tried is all that is important. The total amount was $57. Since every bit helps to make any campaign a success we, as Girl Scouts, hope our little bit will help toward making it a little easier for one youngster.

On February 15 there will be a Monterey Heights Adult Girl Scout meeting. As there is every month. We would like all committee mothers as well as parents of our Scouts to come. This meeting is not only for the leaders and assistant leaders of our Girl Scout Troops. The time is 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, February 15 at the home of our neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Van Riper, 1931 Englewood Drive. Please park all cars on the right side of the street so that the buses will have through lanes. We have child care for the meeting—Mrs. Garcia, 2807 Washington.

On Tuesday, February 14 at 1:30 p.m. the Lemon Grove Woman's Club will have as their guest speaker Mrs. Betty Lembeck, representative of Toni Tacoma, director of Fashionality. She will discuss color in the wardrobe, desirable contrasts, and makeup in grooming. There will also be a question and answer period. Hostesses for the day are Mrs. Charles Feiler, chairman, and Mmes. L. D. Newton, William Crocker, and W. R. Herbert.

On Tuesday, February 14 at 1:30 p.m. the members of the Garden Section will hold a business meeting at the home of Mrs. George Willis, 7785 Mt. Vernon St. The meeting will be followed by "Camellias" conducted by Mrs. Willis and Mrs. E. W. Meadows.

New Product Reduces Chick Mortality

A new product by Pillsbury described as potent against all of the poultry diseases during the critical first two weeks of the chick's life, has been put on the market, according to Bill's Feed Store, 3565 Sweetwater Avenue.

The product is known as Pillsbury's New Chick Pre-Starter "66" and features a new high level of antibiotics and a new development known as NF-180. "66" is effective against notorious killers of baby chicks such as the salmonella groups of organisms—pullorum, paratyphoid and typhoid. It is also a high calorie-high protein feed which means a higher fat content than most chick starters.

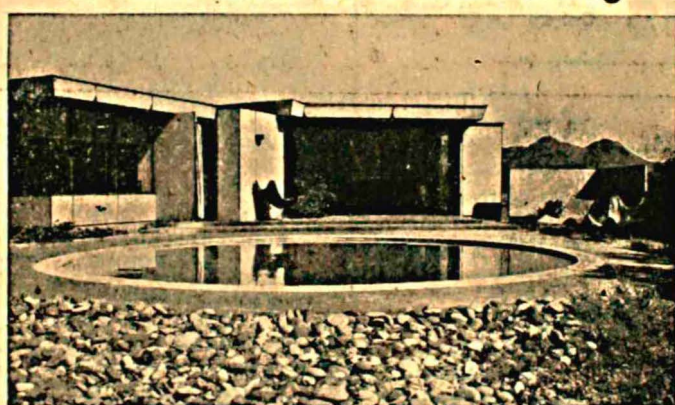

It also reduces mortality due to hexamitiasis, chronic respiratory disease, air-sac sinusitis, non-specific enteritis and synovitis. Testers at Texas A & M say that it is superior to regulation chick starters, Bill's reports.

TONI TACOMA TO BE GUEST OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Friday, February 10 at 1:30 p.m. the Lemon Grove Woman's Club will have as their guest speaker Mrs. Betty Lembeck, representative of Toni Tacoma, director of Fashionality. An Ideal Home for a Desert Setting

When Ted Ashburn, business man of Phoenix, Ariz., decided to build a home on the edge of the desert he called in Architect Blaine Drake to design something unusual. Drake found his answer in the use of asbestos-cement board for exterior walls, fascia and soffits. The home, overlooking a cooling circular pool, is shown above. For design interest, one corner has been clipped from each fascia strip. Asbestos board also was used for the novel sun shade seen at the right. Because it can withstand all temperature extremes, including extreme heat, Drake believes asbestos board is well suited to Arizona's sunny climate. It is fireproof, too, and requires no painting for preservation. In fact, it gains in whiteness with exposure to the sun.

BUILDING a home to withstand desert conditions calls for sturdy materials. Blaine Drake, Phoenix architect, has found a solution in the use of a modern building product, asbestos-cement board, which is immune to damage by weathering under all climatic conditions, including exposure to desert heat.

Drake recently put the material to test in building a modern home of advanced design for a fellow townsman. Constructed in semi-circular shape around the rim of a round pool, the home alternates wide expanses of glass with large sheets of asbestos board for its exterior. Prominent fasciae are a feature of the rangy, one-story building and these, too, are faced with asbestos board.

To protect pool and outdoor loungers from direct rays of the afternoon sun, Drake designed a sunshade by mounting two 43-foot asbestos sheets on panels and joining them at an obtuse angle.

The use of asbestos board as exterior siding is on the increase, building experts report. In some new homes in better class developments asbestos board is applied vertically, with a single sheet spanning from foundation to roofline. In others, the sheets are cut into strips for horizontal application.

Asbestos board is economical in cost, permanent, fire-safe, and attractive in appearance. It does not require painting for preservation, but it can be painted readily if the color plan calls for it.

TUNA FLEET MANAGER TELLS STUDENTS OF INDUSTRY

Students at the Lemon Grove Junior High School have been enjoying guest speakers in several of the classes recently. Last week Phil Bertram, fleet manager for the Van Camp Sea Food Products, showed the 8-7 and 8-5 social studies classes a new film on San Diego's tuna industry. The film showing was accompanied with a talk by Bertram, who answered many students' questions.

The classes are instructed by Mrs. Neva Hale and Jack A. Lemmer. Mr. Bertram's daughter Cathy is a student in the Lemon Grove eighth grade. Boys and girls have shown an interest now to visit the tuna cannery, and they also voiced a desire to sail with one of the tuna clippers. The latter was labeled as impossible, but plans may be made for the former request.

In Mr. Maas's sixth grade, the boys and girls profited from the showing of colored movies of Canada. They are currently studying a unit on America's neighbors, and the films presented by the father of Dudley Grifft, student in the class, proved of great interest.

HIGHLANDERS SMASH TWO HOOP FOES

Paced by center Gael Barsotti, Metro League individual scoring leader, Helix's Highlanders ran over Avocado League member Mar Vista on Tuesday afternoon of last week by the score of 64-50.

Coach Bob Devine of the Highlanders emptied the bench in this easy victory. In the first quarter our boys outscored the Mariners 11-4. Scoring for Helix were: Svalstad, 4; Aase, 3; Turpin, 2; Dennis, 3; Barsotti, 27; Robinson, 6; Rudzinski, 7; Jensen, 3; Drumm, 2; and Goins, 7.

Last Friday evening the Highlanders journeyed to the "Jewel City" and came home with a hard-fought victory. Final score: Helix 49, La Jolla 45. High scorer for Helix was junior Ronnie Mulder with 21. In the first quarter the Highlanders met a stiff defense and only scored one point to the Vikings' eight, but Helix roared back in the second quarter to outscore their adversaries 18-7. Scoring for Helix: Mulder, 21; Aase, 1; Turpin, 4; Barsotti, 7; Goins, 8; and Rudzinski, 8.

In the preliminary bout the Helix Bees defeated the La Jolla Bees, 53-52.
